

THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR SUICIDE PREVENTION AWARDS

The International Association for Suicide Prevention (IASP) provides awards for those who have contributed in a significant way to the furthering of the aims of the Association. Awards are presented at the IASP biennial conference.

THE STENDEL RESEARCH AWARD

The Stengel Research Award has been provided since 1977 and is named in honour of the late Professor Erwin Stengel, one of the founders of IASP. This award is for outstanding active research with at least 10 years of scientific activity in the field, as evidenced by number and quality of publications in internationally acknowledged journals.

Members of the International Association for Suicide Prevention (IASP) are invited to nominate suitable persons for the Stengel Research Award. Nominees do not necessarily have to be IASP members.

The criterion for selection is:

- Outstanding and active researcher with at least 10 years of scientific activity in the field, as evidenced by the number and quality of publications in internationally acknowledged journals.
