ExplanationTxt:
Programme activity in 2020 was contained, constrained and variable; expenditure was clearly well monitored.However lue to COVID -19, rapid response to this public health emergency became a priority; essential resources were identified nd a substantial increase in pro bono action was both welcomed and vital. Whilst approximately 35 % of the 2020 rogrammed activities were placed on hold, increased resources were focused on the pandemic and essential communication ampaigns.

#3: FormAndLineReferenceDesc: Part III, line 4d
ExplanationTxt:
IASP is one of the 17 partners of MENTUPP - Mental Health Promotion and Intervention in Occupational Settings, a 4-year EU-funded project, and supports the European Alliance Against Depression in the communication and dissemination tasks of the project. The primary aim of MENTUPP is to improve mental health in the workplace by developing, implementing and evaluating a multilevel intervention targeting mental health difficulties in Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) in the construction, health and ICT sectors. Its secondary aim is to reduce depression and suicidal behaviour.
Following the WHO's designation of COVID-19 as a global pandemic on 11 March 2020, Professor Murad Khan, President of the International Association for Suicide Prevention (2020), established a Presidential Special Task Force on COVID-19.
Given the potential risk of increased suicide, attempted suicide and suicidal ideation (hereafter 'suicidal behaviour' (WHO, 2014)) and of a decreased capacity of national governments and local agencies to deliver effective suicide prevention services during the pandemic and similar global crises, the Task Force was charged with the development of a protocol for the rapid implementation of IASP's response to future multi-country public health emergencies and natural disasters.
The World Health Organization (WHO) encourages all its members to take effective action to prevent suicidal behaviour, but recognises that there is no one way forward: [t]he steps a country should take next will depend on where the country is on the way towards suicide prevention (WHO, 2014: 66). Countries that have relatively comprehensive national response are advised to focus on evaluation and improvement, updating knowledge with new data, and emphasising effectiveness and efficiency. Countries with existing suicide prevention activities should identify what is already in place and where there are gaps that need to be filled. Countries yet to undertake suicide prevention activities should concentrate on identifying and engaging stakeholders, developing activities where there is greatest need or where resources already exist, and improving surveillance. IASP recognise the need to provide expert support to countries, especially low and middle income countries [LaMICs], where suicide prevention action has not yet been initiated or where activities are being under- taken in a non-strategic and uncoordinated manner. World Health Organization (WHO)
